

U. S. SHIP SINKS SUB WARLINE

GERMAN CRAFT IS SENT DOWN

Capt. Rice of American Liner Mongolia Sinks U-boat With First War Shot.

WIRES NEWS FROM LONDON

BULLETIN.

[By Associated Press Leased Wire.] London, April 25, 4:45 p. m.—Captain Rice of the American steamship Mongolia, which has arrived at a British port, told the Associated Press today that the Mongolia had fired the first gun of the war for the United States and sunk a German submarine.

Craft Was Destroyed.

The submarine, Captain Rice said, was about to attack the great liner in British waters April 19. He declared there was absolutely no doubt that the U-boat was hit and that there was every reason to believe it was destroyed.

Disappeared in Pool of Oil.

Even more pertinent a fact, as regards the ultimate fate of the submarine, was that the shell disappeared immediately after the hit was made. The captain stated that a shell always strikes the water and can be seen again unless it finds the mark. Oil also was seen on the water after the submarine disappeared. The Mongolia was going at full speed and was a long distance away when the spray and foam subsided, but from the bridge the officers observed the spot where their glasses, and they are confident the submarine was sunk.

Planned to Ham U-boat.

The periscope was sighted dead ahead on the last afternoon of the voyage. The captain gave the order for full speed ahead with the intention of ramming the submarine. The periscope disappeared and a few minutes later re-appeared on the ship's broadside. The gunners fired, hitting the periscope squarely and throwing up a mountain of water.

Under Large Vessel.

New York, April 25.—The American steamship Mongolia, a vessel of 13,635 tons, owned by the International Mercantile Marine company, left an American port for London April 7 on her second trip since Germany's submarine declaration of February 1.

All American Gunners.

The Mongolia carried a crew of United States gunners, in command of (name deleted by censor). It is one of the largest vessels under the American flag.

The Mongolia was built at Cambridge, N. J., in 1904, for the Pacific Mail Steamship company, and for a number of years was engaged in the California-Oriental trade, carrying passengers and cargo. It was purchased by the International Mercantile Marine in 1915, and brought to the Atlantic, where it entered the service of the Atlantic transport line, a subsidiary of the International Mercantile Marine. It has been carrying freight only.

Lexington Anniversary.

April 19, the day on which the Mongolia fired the first shot of the war, is the anniversary. It was recalled here today, of the battle of Lexington when the first shot was fired in the American revolution.

REICHSTAG ADJOURNS

[By Associated Press Leased Wire.] London, April 25, 12:55 p. m.—Adjournment of the reichstag until May 3 after a brief session yesterday. A central news dispatch from Amsterdam, Philipp Scheidemann, socialist leader, expressed regret that the reichstag should be convened and then adjourned almost immediately. George Ladebaur, leader of the social democrats, said that regret was not enough. He demanded that the reichstag should meet today for discussion of the food problem.

"Thousand" of Workmen.

"Thousand" of workmen," he said, "have been forced to abandon work owing to their distress."

Here Ladebaur's words caused an uproar.

Permission to continue his speech was refused.

SPANISH PREMIER QUILTS, WOULD JOIN THE ALLIES

[By Associated Press Leased Wire.] Paris, April 25.—Count Romanones, in an interview with the "Madrid" correspondent of the Petit Parisien, declares unequivocally that his resignation as Spanish premier was due to his conviction that Spain should join the allies. The former premier is quoted as saying:

Warn of Iowa Frost.

[By Associated Press Leased Wire.] Des Moines, Iowa, April 25.—Warning of probable killing frosts throughout the state, was sent out today by the Iowa weather and crop service.

Truck gardeners, particularly in the west and southwest portions of the state, were warned to cover young vegetables.

War Situation

In pushing the offensive today, General Haig directed an attack along the front between the Coteul and Scarpe rivers. This is a stretch of about three miles, extending roughly from Guenappe north to Fampour, almost directly east of Arras, where probably the most desperate fighting of the offensive has taken place. Monchy-lez-Reux lies within this area. Further ground has been seized by the British here. The British front was moved forward two-thirds of a mile "at one point last night south of the Bapaume-Cambrai road.

With the French armies along the Aisne front and in the Champagne the battle just now is confined mainly to the artillery. The French are continuing to make progress in local fighting, however.

BRITISH CAPTURE 3,029 MORE OF FOE

[By Associated Press Leased Wire.] London, April 25, 12:41 p. m.—The British have taken 3,029 prisoners since Monday morning, including 56 officers according to an official statement issued by the war office today.

British Forces Captured the Hamlet of Bihem east of Havincourt wood last night.

French Gains Ground.

Paris, April 25, noon.—Ground was gained by the French last night in the Champagne, the war office announced today. A German attack in the neighborhood of Hurbise was repulsed.

The Germans made several futile efforts to raid French trenches near Tahure and Maisons de Champagne, leaving many dead in the wire entanglements.

German Tanks Prisoners.

Berlin, April 25, 11:41 a. m.—The German press today and this morning says the official statement today by the German army headquarters staff, fighting has continued for possession of the village of Gavrelle, six miles north of Arras. On Monday, the statement adds, 500 British soldiers were taken prisoner near the German lines. Twenty German machines were accounted for yesterday on the western front.

Heavy artillery fighting is again in progress over the front of the French.

Attacks by the French near Hurbise in the vicinity of Briemont and the village of the Stuppes are declared to have been unsuccessful.

ENGLAND IS GIVEN FIRST OF WAR LOAN

[By Associated Press Leased Wire.] Washington, April 25.—Secretary McAdoo today handed the British ambassador a treasury warrant for $200,000,000, the first loan made by the United States government by the United States under the $7,000,000,000 war finance measure.

Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, British ambassador, handed to Secretary McAdoo a receipt on behalf of the British government and the transaction was complete.

Lord Curcliffe Witnesses.

The amount of the big sum was made in Secretary McAdoo's office in the presence of Lord Curcliffe, governor of the Bank of England, federal reserve board, treasury and British embassy officials.

The amount of the loan was deposited today in the federal reserve banks by banks subscribing to the $250,000,000 issue of treasury certificates of indebtedness due June 30.

The $50,000,000 remaining of the issue will be disposed of in a manner yet to be announced by Secretary McAdoo.

Big Saving to England.

The loan will take the place of a private loan which Great Britain had contemplated obtaining from J. P. Morgan & Co. on securities of the Canadian Pacific railway. Incidentally, Great Britain will save approximately $2,000,000 annually in interest charges by obtaining the loan from the government instead of from private institutions as the government's interest rate will be 3 1/2 per cent as compared with a minimum of 5 per cent which Great Britain would have had to pay on a private loan.

CLAIM GERMAN CATTLE BETTER FED THAN MEN

[By Associated Press Leased Wire.] Amsterdam, April 25.—The recent strike movement in Germany was discussed at a meeting of the reichstag yesterday. Count Westarp, leader of the conservatives, welcomed General Groener's declaration that further attempts to interfere with munitions work should be ruthlessly suppressed. Count Westarp indicated that money had played a part in the strike and accused the socialist minority of playing the game of Germany's enemies. He denied that the trouble was caused by lack of food.

The socialists indignantly denied the insinuation that bribes had been used and placed the blame for the strike on the administration of the food works, the fact that the bread ration had been decreased and on the agrarian policy. One speaker declared that the agrarians, owing to the high price of cattle, fed them with bread and corn, which the munition workers could not obtain.

U. S. WELCOMES FRENCH ENVOYS

Republic's Statesmen, Headed by Joffre and Viviani, Land Safely in Washington.

ENTHUSIASTICALLY GREETED

[By Associated Press Leased Wire.] BULLETIN.

Washington, April 25.—The French commission headed by General Joffre and former Premier Viviani landed safely at the Washington navy yard last night after a stormy voyage. The reception of the principles of the French mission transcended the diplomatic courtesies. Rousing cheers and handclapping, both from officials and private citizens, greeted the French men.

Marshall Joffre was the center of attraction, who here Viviani, head of the commission, was warmly received.

As Marshall Joffre stepped from the Mayflower, a young French officer, already ashore, bent low and kissed his hands. Tears glistened in the eyes of many present at this mark of devotion to the great French general who had beaten back the German armies on their drive to Paris in the first months of the war.

Leading Heads Receiving Line.

Headed by Secretary Lansing, American officials paid the visiting Frenchmen every honor of greeting. People of Washington, gathered on the streets on the line of march from the navy yard to the headquarters of the mission, applauded enthusiastically.

As the Mayflower came to help wharf marines and sailors lined the driveway to the gate of the navy yard with bayonets fixed. A close guard kept all but those directly connected with the reception ceremonies outside.

A company of the Marine Corps, with the machine guns fixed at attention directly opposite the landing place. Attaches of the French embassy and of the state department waited near a long line of automobiles, carrying French and American flags. Marshall Joffre, Minister Viviani, and the other members of the party lifted the rail of the Mayflower.

Others in Party.

Standing on the dock also were Ambassador Jusserand, Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary Long, Maj.-Gen. Hugh L. Scott, Rear Admiral House and other officials, who went to Hampton Roads to welcome the distinguished visitors.

It took nearly half an hour to dock the Mayflower, but as soon as the gangplank was run out, Secretary Lansing, accompanied by Counselor Polk and Assistant Secretary Phillips, boarded the vessel.

Secretary Lansing stepped forward and warmly clasped the hand of Minister Viviani and Marshal Joffre, and then greeted the other members of the mission. Warm words of greeting were exchanged. The vigor of the handclasp and the earnest looks on the faces of all present showed the welcome were more than perfunctory. During the brief ceremony the ship's band played the "Marseillaise" while the marines and sailors and other officials on shore stood at attention.

Go to White's Home.

The reception ceremonies over Minister Viviani, Marshal Joffre, the other members of the mission, Secretary Lansing, Ambassador Jusserand and their staffs entered automobiles and started for the home of the White family, former ambassador to France, which will be the headquarters of the members of the French party. They were escorted by two troops of cavalry. The route from the navy yard to the White home had been made public and was lined with cheering Washingtonians.

There were thousands of children on the streets, many waving flags, and the passage of the party was attended by almost continuous hand-clapping and cheers. Mr. Viviani acknowledged his reception by raising his hat and Marshal Joffre acknowledged his greeting by holding his hand at salute to his cap.

At the White home the members of the mission retired to rest. They found waiting them great bouquets of flowers sent by British Foreign Minister Balfour.

No Alliance Sought.

Arthur James Balfour, British foreign secretary, stated today that the allied governments, completely convinced of America's wholehearted cooperation toward the common cause, would not think of asking this country to depart from its traditional policy of non-entangling alliances.

"Our confidence in the alliance and the assurances of this government," Mr. Balfour said, "is not based on such shallow considerations as arises from treaty."

He said there is no certainty in the United States having come into the war, will see it thru to the great end we all hope for.

Expresses Deep Appreciation.

Mr. Balfour after his first two days in the American capital consented to an interview to express his deep gratitude for the warmth of his reception and his conviction that America's services in the war could not be exaggerated. Standing in the midst of a semi-circle of correspondents, Mr. Balfour spoke with the deepest feeling of the losses already experienced in France and England and of the gratitude felt in both countries at the decision of the United States to enter the war.

"I am told," said Mr. Balfour, "that there are some doubting critics who say the object of the commissions in coming to this country is to inveigle the United States out of its tradition of non-entangling alliances."

He said that such a charge was entirely unfounded. He said that the commissions were coming to this country to see the object of the commissions in coming to this country is to inveigle the United States out of its tradition of non-entangling alliances.

Is Warfare of Hunkled.

"And now when after all these months you feel impelled to enter the struggle, I am certain you will throw into it all your resources, incomparable the richest in the world, all your man-power and your will and effort; I am sure nothing will turn you from your consecrated task until success crowns our joint efforts."

Mr. Balfour speaking of the arrival of the French commission here today, said the commission was memorable, especially as one of its members was General Joffre.

SPAIN NEARS BREAK WITH THE KAISER

[By Associated Press Leased Wire.] Madrid, Spain, April 25.—The text of Spain's note to Germany as given in a Berlin dispatch conveying a grave warning that the end of Spanish patience is in sight, also contains a suggestion that a crisis may be averted through negotiations. The note says in part: "All the repeated attempts of the Spanish government, undertaken with the intention of safeguarding its sea traffic and the lives of its sailors, have failed in the face of the imperious government to employ unusual and violent war measures. It is asserted that these measures render the imperial government's enemies but simultaneously they expose to great dangers the existence of friendly neutral powers."

Spain Must Defend Self.

"If the imperial government persists in declaring that it adheres to its determination in order to defend its title, it must not be astonished if Spain, for the same reason, must emphasize her right to defend her own title. The Spanish government hopes that the imperial government, fully appreciating the difficult economic situation in Spain, will enter into a discussion with the Spanish government regarding measures which may be taken, within the limits of military necessities, for the mitigation of the difficulties which have arisen in Spain."

DEMOCRATS BOLT ASSEMBLY CAUCUS

[By Associated Press Leased Wire.] Springfield, Ill., April 25.—Fifty house democrats declined today to vote against the Buck-Baneroff bill to remove the trial clause from state civil service. They were Governor Jones, Dietrich, Griffin and Cooper.

All other democrats agreed to vote solidly against the republican civil service program. The republicans have approximately 40 votes within their own party for the program, three more than the necessary constitutional majority.

Postpone Dry Bill Slaughter.

The slaughter of remaining dry bills on the house calendar, which was set for tomorrow, will be postponed, Representative Thomas Curran, wet leader, said today.

Those who introduced the bills have declined to call them up," Mr. Curran said, "and they may let them die on the calendar without action."

Bills Oppose High Heels.

A bill designed to spell the doom of high heels was introduced in the house today by Representative Curran. The bill, introduced by Representative Curran, would prohibit the wearing of high heels in the house of representatives.

Pass Defense Bill.

The state council of defense bill to provide a board of 15 to coordinate with the national defense council in all questions dealing with the state's conduct of the war was passed by the senate today by a vote of 41 to 0. It was sent at once to the house and will be considered at once.

Teachers' Pension Bill Fails.

The Chicago teachers' pension bill failed to pass the senate today, receiving only 17 affirmative votes. Democratic senators voted against the bill after attacking the provision placing the control of the pension fund in the hands of a board composed of four members of the board of education, three teachers and the superintendent of schools.

Convict Fatally Hurt Caught in Garbage Can

[By Associated Press Leased Wire.] St. Charles, Mo., April 25.—A convict, who was probably fatally injured today when he was stabbed by two steel rods while seeking to escape by hiding in a garbage can, died in the precautionary padding of the garbage before its removal from the institution, concealed himself in a garbage can of garbage at the east gate of the prison.

Two guards before turning the cans over to a teamster drove sharp steel rods thru the mass. Murphy's cries led to his detection and he was taken to the prison hospital.

He was serving a sentence of from one to 30 years for robbery and was sent from Cook county.

WILSON LEADER GERMAN BORN

President's Chief in House Conscription Fight Is Republican, Julius Kahn.

COPLEY BACKS PRESIDENT

[By A. M. Snook, publisher of The Beacon-News.] Washington, D. C., April 25.—(Special.)—It seems a decree of fate that President Wilson's universal service army bill should have to be championed in its passage through congress by Julius Kahn, a republican member and a naturalized citizen who was born in Germany.

I was among the crowds who sat in the galleries of congress Monday and Tuesday and witnessed the debate over the so-called conscription measure. Representative Kahn, a democrat, chairman of the house committee on military affairs had presented the majority report of the committee providing for first raising an army by the volunteer system.

Kahn Born in Germany.

Congressman Kahn, advocating the president's bill for immediate universal service by selective draft led in arguments against the volunteer system. He is a fine looking man of German type with silvery hair and an exponent of his cause. Congressman Kahn was born in Germany, in Prussia, if you please, and came to America when he was six years old. He was elected to congress from San Francisco, and is now ranking member of the republican minority of his committee. Chairman Dent, as before stated, the democrat is opposed to the president's plan of general military service for all men between the ages of 18 and 25 years, and he falls upon Congressman Kahn, to champion the president's bill. His splendid work is a tribute to the loyalty of a German-American to his adopted country.

Copley Backs President.

While a determined fight against conscription is being made in congress, general opinion in Washington is that the president's bill will finally pass. The house and senate are expected to pass the bill. Congressman Copley will vote for it. He believes that universal service is absolutely necessary to maintain the integrity of the United States. To another congressman who asked Copley yesterday how he was going to vote on the bill, Colonel Copley replied "I shall stand squarely behind the president and shall vote just as he wants on any question pertaining to this war. Congress has officially declared war, has authorized the president to use the army and navy to enforce the law, and he should have every resource of the country to his aid in successful completion, and he should have the unwavering support of all members of congress in all measures he thinks necessary."

Once over the bridge passengers are allowed to return to the platform.

STILL DRAGGING RIVER FOR MAN AT ST. CHARLES

The Fox river three miles north of St. Charles was dragged again today, in the search for the body of Paul Schwas, a Chicago caretaker of a cottage north of St. Charles, who is believed to have drowned Monday evening.

Sheriff Beebe Richardson and Deputy Sheriff Charles Nelson dragged the river yesterday morning and at noon went to St. Charles to get the body of Paul Schwas. The body was not found. They were hunting for a drowned man. They described the man and Gillon said, "I believe I kept that man in jail Monday night. This morning he told me he lived in Elgin and I put him on a car for that city."

It was later learned that the man who was kept in the St. Charles jail was not Schwas, so work was resumed dragging the river.

Schwas was last seen Monday evening in a boat on the river. The boat was found Tuesday morning about 300 feet south of the cottage.

BLAMES AMERICA IN NEW WAR CRISIS

Head of German Labor Says
Gompers Cabled Him to Try to Avert Break.

Thinks if America Had Been Stricter in Neutrality Would Have Halted Munitions.

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)
Amsterdam, April 25.—Karl Legien, president of the German Federation of Trades unions, makes a new attack on America in the Korrespondenz Blatt, in a renewed discussion of the cablegram sent him by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, urging the German unions to try to avert a breach between the United States and Germany. President Legien says the United States should have maintained communication with Germany in spite of England's "unilateral blockade." He adds that if America had been in earnest in her professed neutrality she would have prohibited the export of munitions.

Count von Reventlow, commenting in the Tageszeitung on congressmen's London cablegram to the Russian socialist, urged them to discountenance the idea of a separate peace with Germany, says:
"Only Arm. Rule of Germany."
It is an interesting and valuable confirmation that the feeling that prevails in all parts of England is that the only acceptable peace is one that will ruin Germany.

The Tageszeitung repeats elsewhere a mass of comment from the conservative and national liberal press on the growing socialist influence on the government. It introduces this comment with the remark:

"The feeling increases that we are drifting toward an abyss if a strong hand does not steer the German ship of state clear of Scheidemann's course."

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)
Copenhagen, April 25.—German war correspondents on the western front are again excusing the bombardment of Rheims cathedral on the ground that the venerable structure is being used for military purposes by the enemy. Dispatches from German headquarters assert that artillery observers are posted on both the cathedral towers who direct the operations of batteries stationed near the edifice.

TURKEY IS SCORED FOR BREAK WITH U. S.

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)
Copenhagen, April 25.—Turkey's action in breaking off diplomatic relations with the United States is scathingly condemned by the New Zürcher Zeitung. The paper recounts at length all that Turkey owes to America and expresses the fear that America's call will spell suffering and starvation to millions and desolation to such districts as Palestine and Armenia.
"The breach," says the paper, "is far more important than any other of the many which are being recorded almost daily. America has scored money into Turkey for the amelioration of the indescribable needs of the poorer populations in Syria, Palestine, Constantinople and Armenia and has lent the Turks its moral support. Now with one blow all this is lost and it is the irony of history that it was Turkey, indebted under all circumstances to the United States, which threw down the iron gauntlet of challenge."

The paper expresses the greatest fear that Turkey, now isolated from all neutrals, will devastate the districts where American money and assistance have helped to keep order. It goes on to say that America, at least, will be the victims of its ruthlessness and that all the European zeal and industry has accomplished in the last two generations will be destroyed from "military necessity."

"The saddest of all," concludes the editorial, "is the loss of all those thousands of Armenian children who, even the irregularly, have been able to keep their agonized souls and bodies together, thanks to America."

37,000 MEN FOR NAVY

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)
Chicago, April 25.—Estimates by the bureau of navigation to Capt. William A. Moffett, commander of the great lake training station, indicate that the territory contiguous to the station will be expected to provide 37,000 men for the navy within the next few months.

For Those Who Suffer
Pain in Stomach, Back or Joints.

(By SAMUEL HAMILTON, M. D.)

In recent years investigation by means of X-rays, the observations of scientists such as Cannon, Grutzmacher, Pavlov, Fowler, Hawk, prove that an abundance of water is necessary to good bodily housekeeping. To drink a pint of hot water before meals is good practice, and those suffering from a catarrhal condition of the stomach will find benefit in drinking about 10 or 15 drops (one-sixth of a level teaspoonful) of baking soda, drinking it an hour before each meal.

If your kidneys are sick, or you suffer with lumbago or rheumatism at times, pain in the back or back of the neck, take a little Anuric before meals. Anuric (double strength) can be found at any good drug store, and was first discovered by Dr. Pierce, of the Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y.
When run-down, when life indoors has brought about a stagnant condition in the "circulation"—most everyone is filled with uric acid—acid is this so of people past middle age. This uric acid in the blood often causes rheumatism, lumbago, swelling of hands or feet, or back-like condition under the eyes. Backache, frequent urination or the pains and stiffness of the joints and high blood-pressure are also often noticed. Everyone should drink plenty of pure water and exercise in the open air as much as possible. I have found that Anuric is an antidote for this uric acid poison and that it will dissolve the accumulation of uric acid in the body much as hot water dissolves sugar.—Advertisement.

MOVE TO OVERTHROW VON HOLLWEG SEEN

German Internal Dissensions, Food Problems and Socialism Causing Agitation.

Chancellor Criticized for Lack of Definite Statement as to Kaiser's War Aims.

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)
Copenhagen, April 25.—The movement for the overthrow of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, halted by the adoption of ruthless submarine warfare, is again becoming evident in Germany. The agitation is encouraged by dissensions over internal reforms, possible peace terms and food troubles.
The pan-German, conservative and national liberal organs are sharply campaigning against the socialist peace program and take the chancellor severely to task for not disavowing his administration. From Scheidemann and his propaganda, the conservative Deutsche Tageszeitung demands a strong hand at the helm which alone, it says, can save the country from a breakers to which it is heading on the dangerous Scheidemann course. The liberal organs speak of the hopes and fears that ruthless submarine warfare have introduced and declare that a strong and positive policy at home and abroad is much needed.

Reports from the Berlin socialist conference indicate that here is trouble, too, in the ranks of the socialist majority and that Scheidemann is having increasing difficulty in keeping them in line in what has virtually been the principal government party.

The administration is evidently having no happy time in facing the utterly conflicting demands of its socialist friends and Junker enemies, both clamoring for a definite statement as to war aims and internal reforms. The evident shakiness of Austria-Hungary is another source of concern.

FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

UNION ACTOR FOLK IN FINE PROGRAM

Vaudeville Bill Given by "White Rats" at East High Is Well Received.

Part of Proceeds Used in Fighting Judge Baldwin Theater Picket Infestation.

The White Rats, union of actors and actresses, invaded Aurora last evening for the first time and gave in the Aurora East high school auditorium, a high-class, snappy, and entertaining vaudeville show of eight diversified acts. The program was under the auspices of Aurora union labor.

The headliner was Cork Youngblood Carson's girl band. This act has played at the Fox several times. Miss Carson was recently arrested six times in one day in Chicago, for alleged violation of a sweeping injunction issued by Judge Jesse Baldwin against theater picketing. She was taken into court six times in the one day and released each time.

It was explained by Arthur Dano, one of the actors, that the sweeping injunction prevents members of the White Rats, from going near 75 named theaters in Chicago, from standing on or walking in the same streets they are on, from talking to anybody going into or leaving these theaters and many other specific instructions. He said the injunction also restrains the "White Rats" from "doing anything else."

The program consisted of the following numbers:

Madam Sampson and company; feats of strength.

Lois Dexter; impersonator and soloist.

Leo Delmage; trick bicyclist.

Arthur Dano; characterizations and solos.

Barnes and Russell; comedy song and dance act.

Alvin and Alvin; comedy song and dance act.

Cora Youngblood Carson's girl band.

The show as given without the usual customary effects used in theaters, and there was no dressing room for changes in costume and yet the applause for every act was most generous.

Raise Funds for Injunction.

A part of the proceeds from these entertainments is used in paying the costs of fighting the Baldwin injunction. The company appears at Rockford this evening and at LaSalle tomorrow.

W. H. Searl, labor union leader of Aurora, said today that the advance ticket sale here was large.

Miss Mary O'Reilly of Chicago, one of the 68 school teachers discharged from the Chicago schools a year ago, spoke after the show and explained the need of union labor people and other workers becoming informed on the laws affecting working people that they may be able to protect their interests. She urged those present to telegraph last night to their representatives at Springfield, urging them to vote for the limited injunction bill.

VEGETABLES ARE CHEAPER

Potatoes, sugar, butter, eggs, flour and most all articles of food are being sold today at practically the same prices as have prevailed for the last two days, according to information received from local grocers.

Ohio seed potatoes are selling at $4.25 per bushel.

Prices for some of the fresh vegetables were lower today. Asparagus is selling at 15 cents per bunch; lettuce, 30 cents per pound; rhubarb, 10 cents per pound; green onions, 5 cents per bunch; radishes, 3 bunches for 10 cents; cucumbers, 10 and 20 cents each. These prices represent the class of stores that deliver goods and do not operate on the cut price basis.

A CHAT WITH YOU MEN

(By Joe Reising)

You've heard the news—the big sale of Walk-Overs!

They talk about the high cost of food-stuffs, but the condition isn't one, two, three compared to the shoe situation.

It's unnecessary, perhaps, for me to dwell at any length on the importance of this sale event to you and every other man who must be shod. If you were to buy ten pairs right now at the prices this sale affords, you'd be doing yourself about the best turn I know of.

Men are coming here for shoes in wholesale numbers. Women folk are coming in greater numbers than that, but you know women are more apt to be on the watch for their bargain opportunities, so I figure I owe you gentlemen this special message to acquaint you with a proposition that's going to net you a nice, fat profit, if you act now.

You know what Walk-Over quality means, and you know what the Reising guarantee means, standing back of this famous brand—a great combination!

Shoes and oxfords, for dress, for work, for every wear and every occasion.

DR. GABLE

THE NOTED CHICAGO SPECIALIST in all the St. Louis Hotel, and will be in the city until 5:30 P. M. Saturday, April 14.

Dr. Gable is making these visits here to explain to people suffering with chronic diseases, his Neuropathic system of treatment, which was discovered and originated by him several years ago. This new system of treatment removes disease from the body, by eliminating the poison, by treating the nerves and the blood, and restoring vitality to the weak and ailing. He has spent 14 years of his life working out this system of treatment and he is having the most remarkable success in many very severe cases. He invites every person suffering with chronic diseases of weakness of any kind, especially those suffering with high blood pressure, or any weakness of the heart and those afflicted with kidney or bladder troubles—especially where they have disturbances of the stomach causing indigestion or fermentation that is throwing extra work on the kidneys and bladder to rest and consult him. This new treatment gives quick relief in these cases. He believes that he can cure any case of acute or chronic rheumatism. It removes the poison from the blood, gets it out of the system. He wants all people afflicted with nervous troubles of any kind, even where there is partial paralysis of any part of the body to come to him for examination. This treatment is especially directed to the nerves. He treats dyspepsia, constipation and liver troubles, skin diseases and all kinds of weakness of the bladder—he wants all sufferers of

to come to him and let him explain his new system of treating catarrh to them. He believes he can cure every case with this treatment. Dr. Gable is a graduate physician of one of the leading medical colleges in the United States, has spent five years in foreign study and practice, and is a regularly licensed physician under the State Board of Health of Illinois. He is reliable. He does not claim to cure all cases of chronic disease; that is why he must make a personal examination of your case. He invites you to come and let him make a thorough examination and tell you exactly what your trouble is, how far it has gone, and whether or not it is curable. He will make no charge for this. He is making regular monthly visits to Aurora, Ill. in many of the worst chronic cases. It costs nothing to get his professional opinion.

Aurora Society News

The last regular meeting of the Aurora Woman's club, aside from the annual meeting May 8, occurred yesterday. Dr. George R. Scherger of Chicago, well known speaker, student of philosophy and thinker, gave the address under the auspices of the home and education department; his subject having been "You and Your World." His talk was prefaced by two charming songs "Bird Raptures" and "A Little Thief," by Mrs. Theron Walters, accompanied by Mrs. Luther Allen. Mrs. Walters was heartily cheered and responded. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. T. J. Morrill, chairman of the department.

Dr. Scherger's talk was generally conceded, judging from snatches of conversation following the program, to be one of the best upon the winter's program. The speaker has that asset a good voice, and as the result of his years of experience, has learned to speak slowly and to discriminate, adapting his address perfectly to his listeners. Yesterday, while there was a certain amount of the atmosphere of the sympathy which he admits he possesses with the socialist movement, he evidently considered the fact that his audience was composed largely of women who have not been wage earners and dwell only briefly upon the subject.

A man of culture, he has a vast fund of information and a complete knowledge of the classics and of poetry which he uses with excellent effect. He began with the statement that it is impossible for any human being to have an absolute knowledge of anything, even the relationship is close—that each lives in a world of his own, and that this world—a mental world, is not affected by the possession of material riches, the mental realm of many a rich man being little more than a hell, and that others dwell constantly in paradise, the ability to see God.

He believes that out of the present world struggle will come good, if so, a return to the simplicity from which humanity has drifted. He recommended much of the attitude of the mind of the old Stoics and seemed to think well of the independence of Diogenes who wanted nothing of Alexander the Great, the latter from his sunlight—this illustrating his point, the desirability of simpler living.

He delved into socialism a trifle in his statement that in his estimation nothing can prevent an eventual economic struggle in this country—saying that Russia had pointed the way, that Germany will doubtless follow—and that the socialist movement will be felt longer after the cessation of the present struggle, although he stated that in his opinion there was a fundamental misconception in even the attitude of mind of the most clear-thinking of socialists. "It is generally admitted that when the laboring man realizes his strength there is danger ahead," said he. "There should be a better distribution of the world's resources; he continued, 'democracy must mean a better economic distribution, but this alone will not solve the problem—it is necessary to also bring sweetness into the world. I believe in arbitrariness—not in the old world meaning of the word—but the arbitrariness of culture.'

The speaker went on to illustrate that culture is necessary, in order to produce the leaders in every line which the world requires—the trilogy of trained intellect, hand and character, saying that the modern world might well emulate the Greeks of old in their contention that both perfect body and mind are necessary to produce the best results. He stated that he scarcely agreed with Lombroso who held to the idea that genius and insanity are closely associated. The way Mrs. Mary Tobin who recently spoke in Aurora stated that the super-normal child is the brilliant child. He referred to the brilliant work of Robert Louis Stevenson, of Pope and of others, saying, however, that the world will never know what the possibilities might have been had these great writers possessed perfect physicalities.

By "culture" the doctor made it plain that he referred not alone to the development of the intellectual powers, that the world has neglected the ethical side—and that culture must be the process which lifts into spirituality—the better living "culture," said he, "puts us into relation with the world, teaches us our place in the world." He made it plain that

Corns Loosen Off With Magic "Gets-It"

2 Drops Do the Work, Painlessly.
"I tell you, before I heard of 'Gets-It' I used to try one thing after another for corns. I still had them. I used bandages and they made my toe so big it was murder to put on my shoe. I used salves and other things that ate off more of the toe than they did the corn. I cut and dug with knives and scissors, but now no more fooling for me. Two drops of 'Gets-It' did all the work. It makes the corn shrivel and get so loose that you can just pick it right off with your fingers."

"There has been nothing new discovered for corns since 'Gets-It' was born. It's the new way—the common-sense, simple, sure way. 'Gets-It' is sold everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Aurora and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Grimm's drug store."

the genius of the world is the God-given perfection which seems to require no set rule—agreeing with the statement that "Talent does what it can. Genius does what it must." Along this line he made it plain that this "talent" is the natural leaning toward a certain line of endeavor and that it is this natural leaning, this love of the work which evolves the effects in many lines which live through the ages. The message of the speaker's address appeared to be that each individual should make his own world by correct thinking which must of necessity result in correct doing.

Mrs. Talbot Present.
Mrs. Charles H. Talbot, of Marengo, president of the eleventh district federation, who had previously spoken at a meeting at St. Charles, was present upon the platform, and was introduced to the audience by Mrs. E. W. Thompson, president of the local club. Mrs. Talbot, who speaks clearly and well, pleaded for united effort on the part of the women of the district as never before saying that the present year is a momentous one and paying a compliment to the women of the eleventh district.

Business Meeting.
During the brief meeting which followed, a recommendation from the board to the club was read, and later that of covering the co-operation of the Aurora Woman's club with the Pagan-Teacher club of the city in the endeavor to induce the state Parent-Teacher club, which soon convenes at Bloomington, to hold the annual meeting in Aurora next year. The report of the nominating committee was made by the chairman, Mrs. J. O. Mason, and later presented upon the club blackboard, as follows:

President, Mrs. E. S. Hobbs, first vice president, Mrs. T. E. Walters, second vice president, Mrs. D. B. Pierson; recording secretary, Mrs. E. A. Van Buren, corresponding secretary, Mrs. John K. Newhall; treasurer, Mrs. Peter Hartz and Mrs. E. C. Pratt (later Mrs. Hartz stated that she desired to withdraw her name); directors, Mrs. A. J. Hopkins, Mrs. J. H. Bliss and Mrs. Ira Belden; department chairmen, Mrs. G. K. McDonald, Mrs. T. J. Merrill and Mrs. L. C. Staudt; chairman rules committee, Mrs. John McMillan; chairman legislative committee, Mrs. F. T. Bell, chairman house committee, Mrs. Frank Jarvis; chairman civic committee, Mrs. J. A. Young.

The annual meeting will be held May 8 at a meeting in reality closing a pleasant year for Mrs. E. W. Thompson. Has been much complimented for her care, consideration and constant attention to the duties of the club during her term as president.

Mrs. Cromer Doing Well.
It will be more than pleasant to the members of the club to hear of Mrs. Cromer, the well known temperance worker, president of the Kane county W. C. T. U., to know that she passed safely thru an operation for appendicitis at the Hinsdale sanitarium yesterday and that she is resting well. Mrs. Cromer has not been in good health during the past few years, and it is said by the specialist, Dr. Kaul, that the operation will relieve all traces of the trouble.

Postpone Registration.
Owing to the many events which will crowd the coming week, it has been decided by the committee in charge of Baby week to postpone the attempt to secure a perfect registration of births and deaths of infants until the coming fall. There will be an exhibit, however, during Baby week, the time and place to be announced later.

Appointment Committee.
Any member who desires to send a proxy at the time of the coming Woman's club election will kindly note the proper committee, appointed by Mrs. Thompson, consisting of Mrs. Charles F. Burton, Miss Mary Todd and Mrs. William Wilson of Hickory avenue.

Twins Six Club.
The Twin Six club met with Mrs. M. R. Giles. There were contests and music and later luncheon was served.

The Aurora Boys.
Among the Aurora boys who have heard their country's call and answered is Allan Ehrenborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ehrenborn. Young Ehrenborn is a comparatively recent graduate of Culver Military academy, and has continued all during the past winter to read upon modern tactics. He is down at Culver and is at present working under court martial ruling, from which it might be deduced that his commission will be a good one. The work is said to be strenuous, but as there is a call for trained graduates to train the young officers who are going in constantly, there is reason to believe that there will be possibly a whole summer's work at Culver for young Ehrenborn in this drill of officers. It was stated yesterday by Leonard Wade, also a Culver graduate, that it is his intention to go to Culver soon to take up the work.

Also Moving June.
Among the well known women catering to women's needs, who are planning to move to new quarters June 1, is Mrs. E. A. Miller, the Gosard corset dealer, who will have quarters in the Lincoln building with Mrs. Laura Smith.

BOY SCOUT WORKERS SPEED UP CAMPAIGN

Start Slowly on the First Day of Three-day Push Towards $10,000 Goal.

Less Than $2,000 First Subscribed, but Hopes for $5,000 Come Today on Brisk Campaigning.

The campaign to raise $10,000 as a three-year budget for the Boy Scouts of Aurora got away to a slow start yesterday but was speeded up today. At 6 o'clock last night when the workers met at dinner in the headquarters in South LaSalle street, only $1,375 had been collected, $1,400 under the amount set for the day. The scout officials had set $3,400 as the mark for the day.

"We got away poorly," said Edward C. Bacon, national field commissioner who is in charge of the campaign. "But I hope that the men will get busy and bring the mark up to the required total today. Instead of making it in two days, as we had hoped it will take until tomorrow night and work all the time according to the way things are going at present."

The Kiwanis club workers "proved to be the banner workers of the campaign yesterday" collecting $600.29 during the day. E. C. Finch, captain of the team. The Scout Council team, captained by Bartfield W. Kade, president of the council, was second with $275 and the Manufacturers team with T. W. Sinclair as captain was third with $242.

The ranking of the other teams was as follows: Y. M. C. A., Harry Kelly, captain, $185; Elks, Prof. J. H. Rittenhouse, captain, $150; Professional, W. V. Shaker, captain, $150; Hall, John Burkel, captain, $122; K. of C., J. J. Gibbs, captain, $121; Moose, J. A. Stewart, captain, $120.

The work of collecting the required amount of money seemed to be going better today and the scout officials were hopeful of reaching the $10,000 mark tonight, leaving half the original sum to be collected in the final day drive.

The money collected will be used to employ a permanent staff of officials for the boys, to aid in the expansion of the movement and to equip and maintain a permanent summer camp for the scouts.

DELIVER NO MAIL TO PRISONERS IN FRANCE

The postal department at Washington has issued orders to all postmasters not to accept registered letters or parcels addressed to enemy prisoners or interned civilians in France, according to an announcement received by Postmaster L. A. Stoll at Aurora this morning.

The French postal department will not deliver such mail under any conditions to enemy persons in detention camps. There is no interference with regular mail or parcels post sent to the prisoners provided it is of a harmless nature.

Hair Often Ruined By Washing With Soap

Soap should be used very carefully if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is an ordinary mildified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One of two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get multifold coconut oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

HOTEL AURORA HAS MILLINERY SHOP

Miss M. C. Ashe, well known designer and milliner, has opened quarters in the new hotel building on the corner of North Broadway and Main street.

Being named "The Hat Shop." If the outfitting and furnishing of ladies' bonnets is a criterion for the milliner to have, then the milliner of this enterprise will surely be exclusive and up to the minute.

The store in appearance bespeaks of fastidiousness to the fullest degree.

"The Hat Shop" is already doing business, catering to a select yet general clientele. Miss Ashe's products, original, but adhering to "good fashion," are uncompromisingly elegant, have won many friends.

Seeing the intrinsic ability so necessary in the millinery art, her new shop should doubtless find a need long felt in Aurora.

3 OUT OF 48 MILITIAMEN BALK AT THE "HAY" OATH
Only three men in Company D, Third regiment, refused to take the Hay oath at the armory last night. Out of 48 men present 45 agreed to sign up for three years in the United States reserve in addition to serving out present enlistments. Col. Charles Greene, commanding officer of the regiment, gave the oath.

Members of the company were stood in a line in the armory, and Colonel Greene asked all who did not wish to take the oath to step out. The three obdurate men left the room.

There were a number of visitors at the armory. After the 45 soldiers had taken the oath they were applauded by the gallery.

What Is Rheumatism? Why Suffer From It?
Sufferers Should Realize That It Is a Blood Infection and Can Be Permanently Relieved.

Rheumatism means that the blood has become saturated with uric acid poison.

It does not require medical advice to know that good health is absolutely dependent upon pure blood. When the muscles and joints become sore and drawn with rheumatism, it is not a wise thing to take a little saline and by rubbing it on the sore spot expect to get rid of your rheumatism. You must go deeper than that, down deep into the blood where the poison lurks and which is not affected by saline and ointments. It is important that you rid yourself of this terrible disease before it goes too far. S. S. S. is the blood purifier that has stood the test of time, having been in constant use for more than fifty years. It will do for you what it has done for thousands of others, drive the rheumatic poisons out of your blood, making it pure and strong and enabling it to make you well. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable. It will do the work and not harm the most delicate stomach.

Write the physician of this Company and let him advise with you. Advice is furnished without charge. Address Swift Specific Company, 41 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

THIS DAY IN ILLINOIS HISTORY.

April 25, 1849—Mail lost in the Illinois river, above Peru, in December, last, was found in the river a few days ago, having been in the water some five months. The mail was opened at Peru, the packages newly enveloped and forwarded to their proper destinations. Mail lost in the Mackinaw, has not been found.

SELECTIVE CONSCRIPTION.

Men are needed for this war as much as money. The Beacon-News has said before that if enough volunteers do not enlist there must be conscription. That is becoming more apparent every day.

All things being equal, it is unfair to the man who volunteers to ask him to shoulder a rifle and allow his neighbor as fit for service as he to remain at home.

If we had had universal service, as we should have had long ago, we would not now find ourselves in the position we are in.

But that is all over. Wishing we had an army and the navy for active, effective service for the length of the war.

If the army and navy cannot be properly prepared by volunteer enlistment, then conscription must come, and President Wilson's plan for selective conscription looks good.

The story is told of General Scott in the war with Mexico. On the march from Vera Cruz to the City of Mexico he found that the year's enlistment of seven regiments out of his 11 had expired.

Four thousand men, more than one-third of the army, quit Scott and then there left him in the heart of the enemy's country. He was forced to go into "winter" quarters and await reinforcements. Had the volunteers not quit, Scott would have been able to end the war in much less time than he did.

The United States cannot afford to be caught in such a trap now.

LAZY AMERICA.

Where will we get men under selective conscription, may be asked.

Well, here's one way.

At the union depot in Chicago are a lot of husky young fellows, well built, good looking, strong and intelligent.

And they are toting grips for passengers!

Lazy America would rather give one of those young men a dime or a quarter to carry a grip than to do it itself—and the pity is the young man would rather take it.

In the hotels and restaurants of Chicago there are so many well built, good looking, strong and husky young men waiting on tables that they fall over each other.

Lazy America won't even take the trouble to fill its own glass with water.

All these young fellows would be far better off out in the open air, getting good wholesome training and America would be far better off exercising its lazy muscles.

These are only two instances. They can be multiplied many times.

ENGLAND'S VOLUNTEER EXPERIENCE.

Here is England's story of volunteering.

The original army of England numbered 160,000 men. The present army is 5,000,000. In France there are 2,000,000 English soldiers now. The rest are in Saloniki, Mesopotamia, Egypt, East Africa and India, in addition to the home defense guard.

Aside from the 5,000,000 soldiers under arms, England has more than 2,000,000 men engaged in war industries. She also has a reserve of 2,000,000 men of military age to be called if required.

These figures are vouched for by a prominent English newspaperman now in this country.

The London Times of March 31, says that the national service department announces that the figures of enrollment have passed the 100,000 mark and that recruiting has been quickened by a special campaign, a large number of extra public meetings having been held. Local committees have also made a special canvass.

In an adjoining column of the Times is a plea "To Every Patriotic Citizen From 18 to 61 Years of Age," from Neville Chamberlain, director-general of the national service.

The appeal goes on to say that the object is to form a general register of willing workers. The men are asked to sign a voluntary offer of service. After signing, the volunteer is to continue his present work until called for and all are asked to enroll. Signing the enrollment form imposes on the volunteer a moral obligation to keep his promise, but does not involve him in any legal consequences.

At the close the director makes this significant statement:

"The government has introduced this system of voluntary national service in the hope of avoiding any necessity for a compulsory scheme."

"Should a compulsory scheme be introduced, the volunteer's undertaking will be automatically cancelled the day the compulsory scheme becomes law and all men will be placed on the same footing."

England has done everything to get men to join

YOUR HEALTH

(By JOHN E. HUBER, A. M., M. D.)

Cheerfulness is the best promoter of health.

Silver Thymus Acid

1. Please tell me how to make sage tea for darkening the hair?

2. What can I do to darken premature gray hair. I am still quite young. I used sage and sulphur; but it only darkened my natural colored hairs and not the gray ones. Please give something that will darken the hair without injuring the scalp.

3. Is there anything to prevent hair from turning gray after it has once started to turn? I am only 25 and I have 20 to 30 gray hairs in my head already. I am wondering if there is anything I can do to prevent the rest from turning.

4. Does alcohol rubbed into the scalp turn hair gray. I am sure that if one gray hair is pulled out there will appear in its place.

I will answer these three letters this week. 1. I do not know how to make sage tea for the purpose you mention; nor do I believe it would be effective. 2 and 3. Sometimes premature graying is natural in persons of a gouty family history; other reasons are impaired general nutrition, excessive brain work, worry, nervous shock, or some sudden emotion, as fear. It is not probable and yet there have been cases in which the graying (canities) the doctor calls this, has disappeared in the young, in those under 30, the original color coming back. 4. Alcohol used by itself has a tendency to dry the hair; and this tends to graying. 5. I do not believe so. But why pull them out. Gray hair is just as comely as any other hair. It has a positive charm. In other days young women who desired to be comely of a silver color. One young woman had used a nitrate of silver solution to blacken her hair. It did the work all too thoroughly. The property of this chemical is to turn black on exposure to the sun. Consequently not only her scalp but her forehead also became black and remained so for weeks.

Young people who are graying, if they are not well nourished, should have their diet system checked. They should have their family doctor prescribe the right remedies. The hygienic life will do wonders for them. In addition shampoo your scalp with tincture of green soap once a month, not oftener; then dry thoroughly. Massage your scalp for 15 minutes every night, pinch and roll it up between your fingers. Then part the hair and rub into the scalp the following which the druggist will furnish open. A doctor attended him and it has healed leaving a red lump.

Bathe the eye frequently in a solution of boracic acid, one teaspoonful to a pint of water that has been boiled to make sure it is sterile. It is very important that you keep the eye clean and that you wash your hands after touching the eye. Who will also instill a solution of atropine into the eyes for a cure of the inflammation.

Eye Contagion.

For the last few nights my boy's eyes have mattered and he has been unable to open them in the morning until they were bathed. The whites of his eyes are bloodshot. Last November he was struck just beneath the right eye with the edge of a hammer which laid the bone open. A doctor attended him and it has healed leaving a red lump.

EVENING CHIT-CHAT

(By RUTH CAMERON)

Stored Up Longing.

When you want a thing very much and want it now, it's dreadfully hard to wait for it.

"I want what I want when I want it," said the old song, and said more common sense than you can find in a barrelful of the average popular songs of today.

And yet, while you are storing up longing, aren't you also storing up happiness for the day of fulfillment?

If every wish were gratified as soon as you felt it, wouldn't you lose a lot of happiness in the long run?

Her Gratitude Was Greater Than the Gift.

The other day I gave a friend a dainty camellia for her birthday. I never saw her so pleased with anything. I thought her gratitude out of all proportion to the gift, and said so.

"But it's a beauty," she said, "and besides, I hoped some one would give me one Christmas, and no one did. Then I thought I'd buy one for myself, and I looked at them, but I hate to spend money for myself on things like that. I hoped some one would give me one for my birthday, and so I waited. And I've waited so long and wanted it so much that I guess that's partly why I love it so."

Her Dreams Have at Last Come True.

Again, a friend of mine who has wanted a home of her own for years has at last built her little home and moved into it, and I never saw anyone so happy. The open fireplace, the dining room with morning sunshine to make breakfast beautiful, the bay window for her plants, the small convenient kitchen—all these things she dreamed of have at last become realities.

She has been waiting and working and saving and planning for the home for years.

If It Were Only a New Wish.

Do you think she could possibly have found the same happiness in it if it only represented a new wish fulfilled, instead of all this stored-up longing at last gratified.

I don't believe she could.

In fact, I know two women whose fathers gave them houses all furnished when they were married and who never took half the pleasure in them that this woman does in hers.

To plan, to save, to wait—these are all hard things when you want what you want when you want it. But cheer up. You are making the thing for which you do all this infinitely more precious.

The day is coming when your stored-up longing will be transmuted into stored-up happiness.

Wireless by Truck.

One of the greatest difficulties in police work in the larger cities is the inability of the policeman or patrolman always to communicate with the central office. The ordinary police patrol usually carries but two officers, one of whom is driving, and there have been occasions when a call for assistance was necessary but impossible. The nearest means of communication was too far away. Now the police department of New York city has solved this problem by installing a wireless apparatus on each patrol.

The radio apparatus is mounted within the chassis of the truck, while two poles hold the aerial wires in place in the front and rear; and the transmitter is driven by the same gasoline power which runs the car. Thus the police truck is in constant communication with headquarters.

The army except to force them. An appeal to patriotism has been followed by the tagging of slackers with yellow ribbons and white feathers. But the work of enlistment goes on slowly.

What if England had had a selective conscription act in the summer of 1914?

A PAT ANSWER.

The story is told of a young slacker in Canada who was complaining recently of the "outrageous" cost of black shoes.

The statement was made at a social gathering. Immediately one of the young women spoke up and said:

"Wear tan shoes and let the government pay for them."

It isn't only America which is tackling the food problem. A French official statement reads: "Our forces last night advanced twenty kilometers in the direction of Ham."

If Paul Revere had to spread the news in these days, he would simply have five gallons of gas put in his flivver and exceed all the speed regulations.

The Department of Agriculture

XL. War on Bugs

(By Frederic J. Haskin.)

Washington, D. C., April 22.—If insect pests in your neighborhood are inflicting any food crop or livestock you can render a patriotic service by immediately notifying your state entomologist or the bureau of entomology of the United States department of agriculture. This latter organization has just put into action as an emergency measure, a nation wide system for locating and suppressing insect depredations, and volunteer assistance is welcome.

The danger from insect depredations is little understood. A plague of army worms or beet beet or cabbage worms or potato beetles, if not held in check by prompt measures, might cost the country millions. The United States government maintains a bureau of entomology, which, with the help of similar organizations in many of the states, devoted all of its time to devising means for the protection of human beings, food crops, and livestock, from insects.

Every trained agriculturist knows that the control of insect life is a leading problem of modern agriculture; every sanitarian knows that insects are his really vital enemies; every forester knows that beetles destroy more valuable timber than forest fires; Boll weevils threaten our cotton supply, and ticks keep our beef production from increasing as it should. Mites eat up our clothes and our shade trees. Depredations, big and little, are made by insects upon the civilization of men at a hundred points.

It is not an exaggeration to describe the bug as a strategic menace to the life of the nation. Some animals he has domesticated, others he has exterminated, still others he saves by protection to furnish him with sport and food. He dominates the animal world, and he controls the insects. They are more numerous and more destructive than ever. Man disturbs the balance of nature by arbitrarily developing some forms of life and destroying others, and the insects seem to profit by almost every disturbance.

So it is seen that the insects are really the most dangerous enemies that we have within our country, and now that our food supply must be increased by every possible means, the insects destructive to food crops are the special concern of the bureau of entomology. It has worked out methods for the destruction of all of them; it has a corps of trained men, and is in constant touch with many other entomologists. The means of combating insect depredations are at hand; the chief problem is to learn of the extent of the depredations, and to use them for no other purpose whatever, to supply a large part of the national demand for sweets. There is only one known way of manufacturing this nectar into sugar, and that is by the agency of the honey bee.

For this reason the bureau of entomology is launching a most determined campaign for the increase of our production of honey. The president of the National Beekeepers' Association, Francis Jager, with several assistants, is working in the offices of the bureau in co-operation with the government experts. A meeting of representatives of all the state beekeepers' associations was held in Washington a few days ago.

This honey campaign includes not only propaganda for the increased production of honey; but the working out of a system of marketing it, and teaching the people its value as food. For not only may honey be used for almost every purpose served by sugar, and make a better cooking sweet, but honey at 15 cents a pound is a palatable substitute for butter at 40 cents.

When it is taken into account that the bee works without supervision and requires very little care, and that his material is simply the nectar of flowers, of which there is an almost incalculable amount used for no other purpose, the large possibilities of this method of sugar production at once become apparent. They have taken a hold upon the imaginations of the men who are working on the problem; every bee man you talk to these days is a red-hot zealot. President Jager says that our annual production of honey can be increased tenfold in a few years. Mr. Phillips, the government expert, viewing immediate possibilities, takes a more conservative view. He says we are now producing from 250,000 to 300,000,000 pounds of honey a year; and that this production can be increased within a year to 1,000,000,000 pounds. This is to be accomplished by inducing more people to keep bees, and teaching correct methods of handling them. The American bee may make up a large part of the sugar deficit caused by Cuban revolutionists, and the European demand.

CHAPTER XX.

The days that followed grew more and more hopeless for Kazan and Gray Wolf. With the other guns Broken Tooth and his tribe held the winning hand. Each day the water backed a little farther into the desert, surrounding the windfall. By the middle of July only a narrow strip of land connected the windfall hummock with the dry land of the swamp. In deep water the beavers now worked unmolested. Inch by inch the water rose, until there came the day when it began to overflow the connecting strip. For the first time Kazan and Gray Wolf passed from their windfall home and traveled up the stream between the two ridges. The creek held a new meaning for them now and as they traveled they sniffed its odors and listened to its sounds with an interest they had never known before. It was an interest mingled with fear, for something in the manner in which the beavers had been driven from the Kazan and Gray Wolf of man and that night, when in the radiance of the big white moon they came within sight of the beaver colony that Broken Tooth had left, they turned quickly northward into the plains. Thus had brave old Broken Tooth taught them to respect the flesh and blood and handwork of his tribe.

CHAPTER XXI.

A shot on the Sand-Bar.

July and August of 1911 were months of great fires in the northland. The swamp homes of Kazan and Gray Wolf, and the green valley between the two ridges, had escaped the seas of devastating flames; but now, as they set forth on their wandering adventures, they met a new and wonderful instinct, sharpened and developed by her blindness, told her that to the north—and not south—lay the hunting-grounds they were seeking. The strain of dog that was in Kazan still pulled him south. It was not because he sought man, for to man he had now become as deadly an enemy as Gray Wolf himself. It was simply dog instinct to travel southward; in the face of fire it was wolf instinct to travel northward. At the end of the third day Gray Wolf won. They recrossed the little valley between the two ridges, and swung north and west into the Athabasca country, striking a course that would ultimately bring them to the headwaters of the McFarlane river.

In the preceding autumn a prospector had come up to Fort Smith on the Slave river, with a white bottle filled with gold dust and nuggets. He had made the find on the McFarlane. The first mails had taken the news to the outside world, and by midwinter the earliest members of a treasure-hunting horde were rushing into the country by snow-shoes and dog-sledges. Other finds came thick and fast. The McFarlane which in free gold and miners by the score staked out their claims along it and began work. Late-comers sprung to new fields farther north and east, and to Fort Smith came rumors of "finds" richer than those of the Yukon. A score of men at first, then a hundred, five hundred, a thousand—rushed into the new country. Most of these were from the prairie countries to the south and from the placer beds of the Saskatchewan and the Fraser. From the far north, traveling by way of the Mackenzie and the Liard, came a smaller number of seasoned prospectors and adventurers from the Yukon—men who knew what it meant to starve and freeze and die by inches.

One of these late comers was Sandy McTigger. There were several rumors why Sandy had left the Yukon. He was "in bad" with the police who patrolled the country west of Dawson, and he was "broke." In spite of these facts he was one of the best prospectors that had ever come to the edge of the Klondike. He had made discoveries running up to $100,000 or two, and had promptly lost them thru gambling and drink. He had no conscience, and little fear. Brutality was the chief thing written promises to attain in the next few years an entirely new importance in the United States. Heavy European demands are steadily cutting down our sugar supply, and the United States, still further reduced by revolutions in Cuba. We produce a little cane and beet sugar and a little maple sugar, but our production of plant sugars can not be greatly increased. On the other hand, there is enough flower nectar produced in the United States, and used for no other purpose whatever, to supply a large part of the national demand for sweets. There is only one known way of manufacturing this nectar into sugar, and that is by the agency of the honey bee.

in his face. His underjaw, his wide eyes, low forehead and grizzly mop of red hair proclaimed him at once as a man not to be trusted beyond one's own vision or the reach of a bullet. It was suspected that he had killed a couple of men, and robbed others, but as yet the police had failed to get any word from him. But along with this bad side of his Sandy McTigger possessed a coolness and a courage which even his worst enemies could not but admire, and also certain mental depths which his unpleasant features did not proclaim.

Inside of six months Red Gold City had sprung up on the McFarlane, a hundred and fifty miles from Fort Smith and Fort Snare, was 500 miles from civilization. When Sandy came he looked over the crude collection of shacks, gambling houses and saloons in the new town, and made up his mind that the time was not ripe for any of his "inside" schemes just yet. He gambled a little, and won a little, but he was not satisfied. He had an outfit. A feature of this outfit was an old muzzle-loading rifle, Sandy, who always carried the latest Savage on the market, laughed at it. But it was the best his finances would allow of. He started south—up the McFarlane. Beyond a certain point on the river prospectors had found no gold. Sandy pushed himself beyond this point. Not until he was in new country did he begin his search. Slowly he worked his way up a small tributary whose headwaters were 50 or 60 miles to the south and east. Here and there he found fairly good placer gold. He might have panned at first, then a hundred, five hundred, a thousand—rushed into the new country. Most of these were from the prairie countries to the south and from the placer beds of the Saskatchewan and the Fraser. Nearly, Demonstrations of the Night.

"In the spring the young man's face softly turns to thoughts of love, While the cooling of notes tender Is overheard from gentle dove; And the cat down in the alley Loudly yowl in love's fierce rally 'Mid the shower of missiles flying from above."

Just you only listen to those horrid, noising cats; Better they were silent—skulking after rats, Or seeking out the moles In the quiet garden holes. Where danger is far less from thrown bricks than from thrown bricks.

As in the darkest places there felices skulking roam, Freighting gloom with timorous hiss and chilling groan, Mothers tremble in the night, Their souls exclaim with fright, Baby's frame of mild quiverings is shown.

Artists in the Southwest.

The southwestern quarter of the United States, and especially New Mexico and Arizona, is a land of color. It is true that much of this section is a desert and lacking in the rich and changing hues of verdure which characterize most of the United States. But the combination of brilliant sunlight and clear air gives to the tints of the region a combination of clarity, depth and vividness which no other part of America can equal.

There are many artists who are among the most skillful in the world, have made discovery of this fact within the last ten years, and the result is that masterpieces and reputations are now among the regular products of the southwest. You can scarcely attend an American section of galleries without seeing some of the most beautiful of the work of this new school of artists, and almost invariably these pictures are distinguished by the skill of their workmanship and the beauty of their color effects. Even the magazines how frequently enrich their pages and covers with specimens of this new school of American art.

There is one large colony of these artists at the village of Taos, N. M., which includes several men of established reputation, a number of promising young artists and usually a large contingent of students and admirers. The Indians of Taos pueblo have found a new and lucrative profession as models. Another artist colony is located at Santa Fe and there are numerous single artists scattered about the land of the sunset of trail.

This new school of painters is especially interesting because it works in of great historical and archaeological value; these men are preserving for posterity the native costumes, dwellings and ways of life of the Pueblos and Navajos, who are about the only American Indians that have not been greatly changed by contact with the white man.

EVERYDAY ETIQUETTE

As a mark of respect to older people, one may say "No, mother," or "No, father," instead of "No, sir" or "No, ma'am."

Questions Answered by Allen Hoyt.

(Miss Hoyt will answer personally all letters pertaining to matters of etiquette, addressed to her in care of this paper, if enclosing a two-cent stamp.)

Jimmy: There is something to be said in favor of certain "slang" phrases in common use in America, as you say. Here and there we find one that aptly signifies an idea for which we cannot find any other suitable expression, and which, therefore, is rapidly gaining a fixed place in our language. However, most colloquialisms are crude and vulgar, and they should be avoided, as a rule. There are times when crisp, idiomatic wording seems to fit the theme; but not often.

Allen: I think your argument is defective. You do not need to laugh constantly in order to appear vivacious. Loud laughter, or much laughter, is objectionable, and in bad taste. Very few people either look well or sound well when they laugh

WILL CONTINUE
ATHLETICS HERE

War Conditions Will Not Interfere With Plans at East and West High Schools.

EAST HIGHT TO JOLIET

The two Aurora High schools plan to continue their athletic activity thru the present season at least. The school authorities have taken the stand there is no better way to maintain physical fitness in the youth than by athletic competition and the fostering of the athletic spirit.

Apparently the schools of the conference have decided to continue their track season with the single exception of Rockford. Reports from the Forest City say that the Rockford team was abandoned for lack of interest on the part of the students and not because of the war, but have decided to go ahead at least for the present.

East High Journalists to Joliet for a dual meet Saturday, the opening event of the track season for the Red and Black. Carlin Morrissey and Richie Ross will lead the East alders, both competing in the distance runs. Most of the team will be green men with the exception of Corwin in the hurdles and others. Evans will probably be the big hope backing up the lanky football player, with Harries the hope in the weights. The rest of the events will be taken care of by men who are in the first year of competition.

West High means Elgin on the Maroon field. The strength of Elgin is still a doubtful quantity—but West High supporters see a good chance for a victory. Morrissey and Richie Ross will lead the East alders, both competing in the distance runs. Most of the team will be green men with the exception of Corwin in the hurdles and others. Evans will probably be the big hope backing up the lanky football player, with Harries the hope in the weights. The rest of the events will be taken care of by men who are in the first year of competition.

If the war situation continues it is doubtful if any of the schools will have a great deal of athletic competition next year, but at the present time the continuance of athletics in the local schools is assured.

Act Now if You Want This Famous
Automobile at the Present Price

At Midnight April 30 the Present Low Price on the World's Record Non-Stop Champion Car Goes up to $665.00

Quick action will save you money on the price of your Maxwell—until May 1st the price remains at $635.00.

High grade steel and other raw materials used in the Maxwell have been steadily costing the Maxwell Company more and more until at last the factory reluctantly has been forced to increase the price in order to maintain Maxwell quality.

For it is the fixed policy of the Maxwell Company never, by even a hair's breadth, to change the sterling quality of the materials, parts, accessories and refinements of the Maxwell car—except, if it were possible, to change for the better.

The present low price of the Maxwell has been the wonder of the automobile industry. The amazing thing is—even before the cost of the best automobile materials began rising up by leaps and bounds—the Maxwell was built to sell for so little as it has.

Of course the reasons are:—a magnificent factory organization of men and machinery, the result of many years of experience and development, and a vast quantity production, now at the rate of over 100,000 cars yearly.

Maxwell Leadership Unchallenged

In the Maxwell you have an automobile which, for results, is the equivalent of far higher priced cars. Here is a car made of the very finest materials, with all of the accessories and refinements of costlier cars, with all of the comforts and luxuries that you expect to pay a great deal more for, with the famous record-making Maxwell motor that has power and speed to spare, with an economy of gasoline consumption that is more than amazing, all these master qualities in the Maxwell at a price which is within the reach of every family.

Master Motor of the Maxwell Car

The marvelous Maxwell engine has earned for the Maxwell car its enviable reputation for fuel economy, this notwithstanding the fact that it has as much, or more power than the majority of much heavier and costlier cars.

1 1/2 Cents A Mile

One example of Maxwell fuel economy is the recent trip made by Prof. (Mrs.) Miriam Seeley, of the Oregon Agricultural College, from Portland to Boston and back to Portland, a distance of 9,700 miles, and this racking tour over mountains and under every road condition was made at the amazingly low running cost of 1 1/2 cents per mile for gasoline and repairs.

—far lower than the rate per mile for passenger railway travel. This is but one example among thousands which are on record in the Maxwell factory office.

Amazing Maxwell Endurance

Never before has any other automobile than the Maxwell accomplished such a marvelous feat of endurance as this World's Record.

A five-passenger Maxwell stock touring car was run 22,022 miles under the auspices of the American Automobile Association without a motor stop or a stop for any repairs.

This in itself is an amazing thing.

—but on top of that, this car, under the most trying circumstances of the endurance test, averaged 22 miles per gallon of gasoline.

Think that over—and what it means to you in running cost.

Act Now If You Want A Maxwell

We offer you at this present amazingly low price—$635—a car which is a marvel of endurance and economy.

Bear in mind that our April allotment of Maxwells is nearly all sold.

And the price on only our April allotment only is the old price, $635.

—on May 1st we cannot sell a Maxwell for one cent under $665.

The difference will go a long way toward paying for your summer's vacation in a Maxwell.

Come in quick and get any form of demonstration you want.

GIRLS SAY GARY ATTACKED THEM

Pugilist One of Three Men Placed on Trial Today on Young Women's Charges.

Girls Declare They Were Offered Stage Work and Were Then Lured to Hotel.

Tommy Gary, 33 years old, Aurora and Chicago Heights pugilist, was taken to the stand in his own behalf this afternoon in a Chicago municipal court where he is being tried on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of two girls, Mary Palmer, 15 years old, and Charlotte Palmer, 16 years old, sisters of St. Louis. On trial with Gary are Michael Todorovich, also Harry Thompson and Jack Press.

The two girls were on the witness stand this morning. They said they were approached at the street by Todorovich, who offered them work on the stage and took them to a room in the Saratoga hotel, where they were attacked by Todorovich and Press. Two days later they were attacked by Gary and a man named Schwartz in a room in the same hotel, they said. Schwartz has not been arrested.

Assistant State's Attorney Robert E. Hogan, in charge of the prosecution, said he thought Gary and the two other defendants might be held on a white slave charge. He said he had the names of several other girls who were enticed to the hotel and attacked. One girl, Blanche Hiamer, 15 years old, says she was held in a room for a week.

Todorovich is manager of the International Labor agency. Press has been clerk in a cigar store at Madison and Dearborn streets, Chicago.

AURORANS ATTEND CHURCH MEETING AT SANDWICH

Aurora Congregational churches were well represented at the annual meeting of the Aurora association, held yesterday in the Congregational church at Sandwich.

The delegates from the New England church were the Rev. A. R. Heaps, Mrs. Mary Schneider, and Dr. W. M. Hanna, while Professor Freeman, A. J. Denney and Mrs. H. G. Gabel represented the First church. Delegates were present from all the surrounding towns. Talks were given by a number of prominent workers including the Rev. R. W. Gammon, D. D. of Chicago, and the Rev. F. N. White, D. D., western secretary of the American Missionary association on home missions.

SUGAR GROVE AID SOCIETY

The Ladies Aid society of the Sugar Grove church demonstrated the patriotism of the members by purchasing flags for the interior of the church and Thursday went over formally in the morning to place them. While there they were sure to see a number of national flags, while the Rev. C. C. Foley gave a brief address. Mrs. Carole Roberts, secretary of the aid society, explained the purpose of the society in purchasing the flags.

INDUSTRIAL BOARD CASE

The case of Milan M. Lathrop and Carl E. Trudson against Charles Hardebeck is being tried before the industrial board at Yorkville this afternoon. They are seeking for compensation for injuries received under the workmen's compensation law.

Hardebeck is engaged in the produce business in Yorkville and the two complainants worked for him at the time the alleged injuries were sustained. They were both injured last December. Lathrop ran a hook into his thumb and an infection set in causing him to quit work. It is claimed he says he was laid up and unable to work for two and a half months. Trudson's hand was injured but he was laid up only a short time, he says.

Attorney Harvey Gussel represents the defendant and T. J. Merrill represents the plaintiffs.

WELL KNOWN TRAVELER STRICKEN AT BANQUET

REC. W. W. WELCH OF I. T. P. A. DIES SUDDENLY AT CANTON.

Aurora members of the Travelers' Protective association will regret to read the following from the Canton Register:

Death sat down at the festal board at the luncheon held Saturday evening in the Canton house by Post H. T. P. A., in connection with the annual meeting and election of officers.

William W. Welch, state secretary and a guest of honor on the occasion, was stricken with paralysis, just as the post president, Joe Simons, was opening the banquet which was to precede the business meeting. Mr. Welch died at 8:30 Sunday.

About 60 of the members of the post had taken their seats and the president had stepped for order, when Mr. Welch, who had come to Canton, C. A. Tosi, the speaker of the evening, said "Charlie" those near him thought it was to be some joke. He did not continue and the president informed him that he had been stricken. Mr. Welch answered, "I can't, I'm sick." He sank lower in the chair and those near him promptly caught and supported him. He died near the dining room, and medical attention was summoned.

The meeting was adjourned. Mrs. Welch, who had accompanied her husband to Canton, remained at the site. Dr. H. C. Putnam and J. E. Coleman hurried to the Canton house. They found paralysis rapidly spreading. They had the patient and then conveyed him to a hotel chamber on the second floor. He regained consciousness sufficient to recognize and speak a word or two to his wife and to his sister-in-law, Mrs. Himeover. He then became unconscious and remained in that condition until his death.

Mr. Welch came to Canton to make the presentation speech of a watch which had been given by Post H. T. P. A. to the state secretary. He was to have presented the watch, which was given by the state board to accompany the watch.

Mr. Welch had been state secretary and treasurer since 1902. His election to the state secretary was held in Quincy, May 11 and 12, was conceded.

Mr. Welch's son, W. W. Welch Jr., was summoned from Peoria and stayed in Canton.

WEARS HIS HAT WHILE IN COURT

Barney Yellin Follows Other Custom Than That Usually Observed.

Innocent Bystander in Multiplicity of Suits While on Trial in Court Costs and Lawyers' Fees.

Barney Yellin, an Aurora merchant, kept his hat on while taking the oath in county court at Genoa yesterday.

He was in a hurry to go on the witness stand in his own behalf in a lawsuit. Deputy Sheriff Thomas Gannon of Elburn, the court bailiff, observed that Yellin wore his hat and made a quick move toward him but was headed off by Judge Hoover who said that Yellin, a former rabbi, was probably observing a religious custom.

It was had enough day for Yellin as it was, as he was out of pocket owing to a multiplicity of legal actions which he became involved after hiring Elburn, Illinois, to do some carpenter work.

He owed Briggs he figured $70.20 but Briggs said that part of the money was owing to his son, Albert, and not to him.

Yellin had given the father a $22 suit on account and a check for $20 when Charles Hart, a tinner, attached the money Yellin owed Gideon, Briggs and his son. Yellin then stopped payment on the check. Hart's claim against Gideon Briggs was for $27.40 and he got judgment in Justice Dutton's court.

The justice also held that the son had no claim against Yellin but that his claim was against his father who had employed him. The jury which heard the case yesterday on appeal held that Yellin should pay Briggs his claim of $35.40 and that he should pay Hart the $12 in which in turn he expected to go to Hart to apply on his $27.40 judgment against the father.

The upshot of it all is that Yellin besides paying for the work done for him pays attorney fees and court costs which resulted when he was dragged into court after disputes arose as to who should get the money. The only satisfaction that Yellin got was the advertising "It was good goods," he said, when the suit he gave on account was mentioned in court.

History and Literature Circle. The final meeting of the History and Literature circle was in the form of a Kipling evening at the home of Mrs. E. E. Hull in Fifth street last evening. Each member was permitted to bring a guest. Mrs. Daniel Figue gave an interesting sketch of the life of Kipling, while Alec Cameron read the poem written by Kipling and appearing in the London Telegraph and in the Chicago Examiner April 13 upon receipt of the news of the declaration of war by the United States. Two stanzas of which read as follows:

In the gates of death rejoice;
We see and hold the good—
Bare witness, earth, we have made
Our choice
For freedom's brotherhood.

Then praise the Lord most high
Whose strength has saved us whole,
Who bids us choose that the flesh should die
And not the living soul.

I. M. Schneider sang several times most pleasingly, accompanied by Mrs. Schneider, while several readings were given by Miss Hazel Smith, all both songs and readings, including the words of Kipling. Robert Milton gave several piano numbers.

Later there was a social hour and refreshments were served.

SLAVE RURAL DISTRICTS ARE BECOMING RESTLESS

[By Associated Press Local Wire.] Moscow, April 25.—Disputes from Petrograd report that the revolutionary spirit is manifesting itself in the rural districts of Russia, bringing the long standing agrarian troubles to a head. Notwithstanding the organization of food committees which are doing their best to make the peasants understand that the land question cannot be wisely settled until the constituent assembly is elected, the peasants are inclined to take the matter into their own hands.

Soldiers visiting their rural homes with or without leave, spreading the seeds of the revolution and leading the peasants against the land owners. This is chiefly the case in the Saratov government, where the people are often inclined to be turbulent. The peasants there have taken possession of the lands and have driven the owners away.

The farmers announced that they will undertake the spring sowing themselves, but owing to lack of seed, this is said to be impossible. In consequence, the sowing is likely to be much delayed and a serious shortage of crops is feared.

Considerable ill-feeling is shown in some districts against land owners. Here peasants have sacked a country house and estates belonging to a rich family. The peasants of the Tambov government surrounded the houses of the land owners and compelled them to sign documents surrendering their lands. In some parts of Bessarabia, the country people are highly reactionary and in one district, especially the Odessa, military authorities have taken strong measures to suppress a counter-revolutionary movement.

REPORT IMMORAL CONDITIONS ABOUT MILITARY CAMPS

[By Associated Press Local Wire.] Washington, April 25.—Reports of immoral conditions at military camps and barracks were given to the national congress of mothers and parent-teacher associations today to establish a committee of mothers to investigate the camps.

Mrs. Frederic Schuchman of Philadelphia, who presided at the congress, declared she had inspected many camps and found immoral surroundings.

Colleges in the latter class are not subject to the annual visit of the board, while those on the partially recognized list are recognized for only one year at a time and are subject to re-evaluation if they fail to maintain the standards set for them.

GRAND ARMY URGES ALL TO DISPLAY THE FLAG

At the last regular meeting of Aurora Post No. 20, G. A. R. Commander J. L. Walker offered the following resolution which was adopted by a unanimous vote:

Whereas, the government of these United States of America has recently declared war against a foreign power, therefore be it resolved, that we as remnants of the boys in blue who offered their lives in 1861 to 1865 to protect and defend our flag on land and sea, do hereby express our conviction that every loyal and patriotic resident of our city should show his colors in this present hour of crisis, and to this end we earnestly request that every true patriot display the Stars and Stripes, "Old Glory," from their homes, and places of business between sunrise and sunset.

We ask that these resolutions be spread upon the records of this post and a copy be sent to the mayor and city council and to the press of our city.—J. M. Conway, Post Adjutant.

MUST PAY WIFE'S FUNERAL

[By Associated Press Local Wire.] Rockford, Ill., April 25.—In deciding recently that the surviving husband or his estate is liable for the funeral expenses of a wife, the appellate court brought to an end a long drawn out case that arose in this city and prevented unusual problems of law. The estate of H. H. Atwood led the case.

When Mrs. Della Atwood died her husband paid the funeral expenses but filed a claim for them against his wife's estate. The county court of Winnebago county rejected the claim, holding that he was liable for the funeral expenses. An appeal to the circuit court by Mr. Atwood resulted in a reversal of this decision.

The case went to the appellate court on the appeal of Mrs. Atwood's estate from the circuit court finding. Meanwhile Mr. Atwood also died and the claim was listed among the assets of his estate. The appellate court reversed the circuit judge's findings and sustained the county court's ruling.

Milton D. Jones, secretary and treasurer of Richards-Wilcox Manufacturing company, has returned from Houston, Texas, where he has been attending the joint convention of the American Hardware Manufacturers association and the Southern Hardware Jobbers' association.

"Mysterious Mrs. M."

Mary MacLaren, the distressed heroine of "Shoes," the spunky actress of "Saving the Family Name," and the purposeless wife of "Wanted—A Home," all Bluebirds, is at the Fox theater in "The Mysterious Mrs. M.," a five act photoplay in which Harrison Ford is her leading man.

In this production the hero is informed by a fortune teller that he will die upon a certain date, the sorceress at the same time saying that she, too, will pass away within a week. When the news comes that the woman has died and thus fulfilled a part of her prediction, the young man "sees his finish." Right at this time a beautiful girl enters his life and because he feels it would be unjust for a doomed man to make loving advances, the complications multiply until the interesting story comes to a "surprise" and happy ending.

Violet Henshaw, who supports H. B. Warner in Selig's "The Danger Trail" is anxious, she says, to become a Red Cross nurse. Miss Henshaw is beautiful and should her ambition be gratified, there is no telling just how many hearts she would wreck while she was assisting in the mending of bodies.

Max Linder's third comedy, "Max in a Taxi" will be released April 30 thru K. E. S. E. It is the noted European comedian's first experience with California as a producing field. Max wires east that he likes the salubrious Pacific coast, and perhaps will complete his Essanay series there.

CUDAHY Sanitary Hair Mattresses

Children, especially, should always sleep upon hair mattresses, because they are sanitary; the thousands of tiny spirals or coils, produced in the hair when it is curled, make it springy and porous. You can't mat it down tight; the air circulates through it freely; water and moisture cannot remain in it; it is self-ventilating.

Impurities can't remain

The impure vapors and moisture given off by the body, both in sickness and health, are not retained in the self-ventilating, Cudahy Porous Hair Mattress. Sun and air, the great purifiers, can penetrate a Cudahy Porous Hair Mattress much more quickly and thoroughly than any other. A Cudahy Hair Mattress never becomes sour, odorous, musty and mildewed.

On the other hand, dead vegetable fibre, used in cheap mattresses, absorbs impurities readily, and retains all it absorbs, because, unlike hair, having no life and vitality, it cannot throw off the impurities. Cudahy hair mattresses are cool in summer and warm in winter.

Lower prices

The makers of Cudahy Sanitary Hair Mattresses have brought the price down to where it compares favorably with what you are asked to pay for inferior grades.

They have accomplished this by their scientific processes of sterilization and manufacturing in enormous quantities and their direct-from-factory sales policy.

Free booklet

Let us send you our booklet "Correct Sleeping." It contains many valuable health hints and information you will be glad to have.

Free trial

Try a Cudahy Hair Mattress in your home; if it is not the most comfortable you ever slept on, we will call and get it whenever you say.

Don't wait; order hair mattresses for your beds today. Your better rest, health and greater efficiency will pay you big dividends on your investment.

Cudahy Sanitary Hair Mattresses are made by the Cudahy Curled Hair Works, 111 W. Monroe St., Chicago.

We want no one to order a set of the "Handy Volume" Britannica unless he knows it will be useful to him.

Very shortly we will announce the date of the last day we can accept orders for the Britannica. Our stock is almost exhausted. When sets on hand are sold your chance is gone forever.

We could easily sell many thousands more sets if we could get them. But we cannot get even one more set. This is not our fault nor the publishers'. They cannot get any more genuine India paper at any price. No more can be made because two important raw materials—flax from Belgium, Germany or Ireland and hemp from Russia—are absolutely unobtainable and there is no substitute for them.

Whether you have been considering buying the Britannica or not, send for the descriptive booklet today. Learn what the Britannica is. Give this immediate thought so that later on you will have no cause to say, "I wish I had known what a wonderful work the Britannica is in time to have ordered a set."

Thousands of persons are going to be disappointed when this sale closes, and those people will be the ones who, while really wanting the Britannica, fail to realize that now is the time to decide and get their orders in.
